Hood Design Studio

OAKLAND

Hood Design Studio's artful landscapes for underserved communities and venerable cultural institutions, including the Cooper Hewitt and the Broad Museum, are deeply researched—speaking to the history and topography of the site, as well as the people who visit and inhabit it. While site sensitivity is always top of mind, creative director and founder Walter Hood isn't afraid to introduce playful surprises, whether through conversation-starting public artworks or unexpected forms. The 2019 MacArthur Fellow "Genius Grant" and Dorothy and Lillian Gish Prize recipient coauthored the groundbreaking new book Black Landscapes Matter (University of Virginia Press). On the horizon? Hood is contributing a newly commissioned work to Reconstructions: Architecture and Blackness in America (opening at MoMA in February) and his revamp of the grounds at the Oakland Museum of California will be unveiled later this year. hooddesignstudio.com
